You're Ready

Amazon would like to invite students looking for internship and full-time opportunities to join an upcoming virtual event from our EMEA Student Programs team.

Career Tips for Software Development Engineering Internships and Graduate Roles (Women's Event) 6th April 2022 12PM- 1:15PM (BST)

This webinar is an opportunity for students to meet and hear from some of Amazon's women in Software Development Engineering. During this session, participants will gain valuable career and interview tips, learn more about the application process, and get advice on how to prepare for the technical Online Assessment.
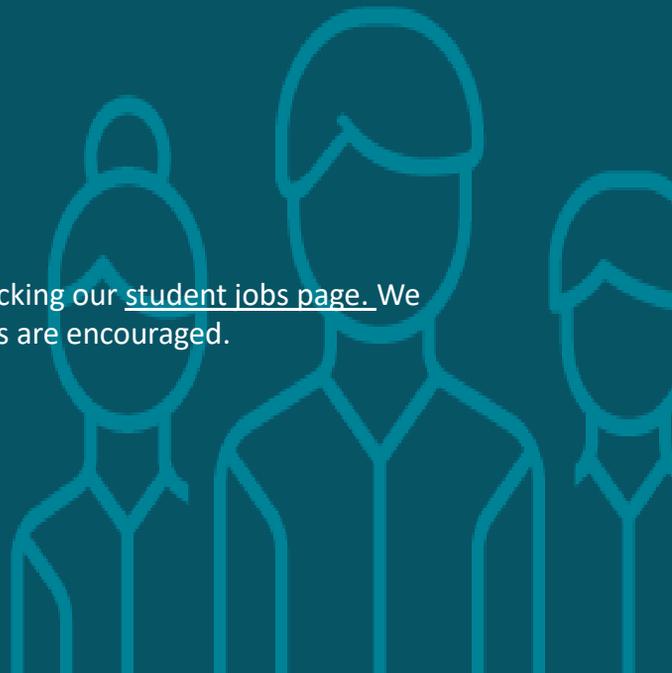

The speakers will also share insight into the daily life of a Software Development Engineer at Amazon, and discuss how to leverage Amazon's all-important Leadership Principles when interviewing at Amazon. Students will be able to submit questions for a Q&A session at the end.
